Folks:

We had wind coming from the North then from the South and a couple of times from the West then it sort of settled in from the South west. It was, how shall I say, surprising.

OK. I'm sorry. I won't go there again.

An excellent group, 12 in all, and once again Joe D'Amico proved to be a real tough nut to crack when the wind is light. Ron Blackledge debuted his new Bantock / Fraktal. A very interesting design. Ron and his new instrument seemed to work better and better as the day went along. It'll be fun to see how this combo works out.

Enjoy
