Folks:

And now, for something a little different. Our usual alternate site along the NW shore was iced in so we went looking for an alternate to our alternate. We decided to try sailing off the swim beach which was sort of ice free and had a breath of wind coming out of the SW which picked up a bit and clocked around to the NW as the day progressed.

We had to set the course by hand because there was no way to get the dinghy inside the swim area. Then we had to wait for the ice that had broken away from the shore to drift out past out marks. Eventually we were able to field 5 boats and get 10 races in the book. Weeds were a bother but not as bad as some places I've seen.

This Regatta marked the debut of Julian's new Pikanto. A DeJoop kit that arrived with a hell of a lot of assembly required. A beautiful first class job and it goes like mad and with a color that will not be confused with any other boat.

Enjoy
Larry
