Folks,

Another beautiful sunny day on Lake Washington as the dozen IOM boats gathered for the monthly Seattle Model Yacht Club regatta at Gene Coulon Memorial Beach Park in Renton, WA. Three new boats in the hands of seasoned skippers appeared for the first time to sail in the Seattle Cup series. Kelly Martin launched his Eldred built, Ian Vickers designed V8 USA 547 for its Lake Washington debut. Also for the first time at Coulon Park we find Chris Brundege sailing his self assembled Dave Creed Lintel Kit USA 683. Thirdly Joe D'Amico arrived with the Vinaixa BritPOP USA 631 that Gary Boell had extensively campaigned in 2012, but Joe sailed it here at the Seattle Cup for the first time. The day was not too hot, no rain in sight and not much wind. The wind was light, the chop was deadly and Mill Foil snags were a crap shoot. We quit a little early to ease the suffering and drown your sorrows with suds and stories at the Terrible Beauty. Auh that's better.

Warren.
