Folks:

We were graced with a nice breeze that was a little South of due West, an ebbing tide and a fog that was so thick that you couldn't see the end of the dock from the parking lot. Impressive but manageable. So the course was set up on the South side of the pier, with the down wind mark as close to the emerging eel grass as we dared and the wind ward marks well into the fog which cleared in an hour and allowed the course to be moved farther out.

With this wind and the course on the south side of the pier, we did not have to deal with a wind shadow and had the big advantage of having the floating dock on the course side of the pier. This was handy for removing the odd weed that wandered by but might not work on a weekend as the small boat traffic that uses the dock could interfere with the race course. We'll see.

Great racing and a good time was had by all.

Enjoy.
