

Greeting's from Rosario Beach area of Deception Pass State Park,

A great day of sailing at our new winter IOM sailing venue at the Rosario Beach area of Deception Pass. And to be very specific we use the pier at Sharpe Cove. The cove is oriented to the southeast which is just where the winter prevailing winds come from. You park outside the park gate and walk in to the pier. This is really a fun place to sail and has limitless opportunities for various sailing strategies. No two laps are the same. Subtle wind shifts and something new that we don't often see, current! You never give up sailing this course if you fall behind because of the opportunities to gain back. There is even a downwind turbo lane that if it is running and get your boat in the lane it takes off. But, it might not be there the next lap! The start line is so close to the pier that you almost feel like you are in the boat. We even have deck chairs on the pier and beer up in the picnic shelter. I may never leave this place. A few pictures are attached you give you the idea. Come on out and give it a try. We will be starting a Sunday winter series soon.

Regards, Mike Doherty
