Sailors,

Welcome from Bowman Bay. Today was like spring training camp for the Mariners. Rosario beach was like glass, so were the straights all the way across to the Olympics. So we looked at Bowman bay and there was the classic summer sea breeze working to produce wind out to the mouth of the bay. Straight into the beach from the west and rock steady. We remembered why we enjoy sailing there so much. It is definitely a boat speed venue vs. the tactical venue that is Rosario bay. We spent time tuning for speed. We are now set up to sail at Bowman and retained some capability for sailing at Rosario beach as well. For the next few weeks we will be sailing at either location depending on the wind conditions. If the wind is out of the SE then we will be sailing at Rosario. If the wind is out of the west or NW we will be at Bowman bay. Check the wind conditions for the day to determine where we will be.

Regards,

Mike Doherty
