Folks:

Weeds in paradise. Racing started at or near high tide and this left us with about every kind of sea weed, kelp, sea grapes, eel grass and floating lettuce that you could think of, and it seemed to be thickest right around the start line. Every start was a crap shoot but ya know what? The same names still rose to the top.

Enjoy.
Larry

PS. Next Wednesday, after the racing, we will talk about the on's and off's of deck patches. Bring your questions and your tricks and loose your fear of these tricky but unavoidable features. LS
