Folks:

No one ever achieves perfection in these endeavors but last Wednesday's installment of the Caper Series came reasonably close. We missed the buxom brew hawse waitresses serving cold beers but other than that the day was spot on.

Great racing with 2 points separating 3 boats.

Our crowd control measures worked beautifully as Trish only had to use her tranquilizer gun once. Jerry recovered quickly and was able to carry on. In fact at the post race BBQ he didn't even remember. Probably best that way.

Thanks to all the volunteers that made it happen, the food people, the gang that handled the dingy and the spotters and line caller. Compared to Surprise Lake this was...well we needn't go there.

Enjoy.
