Folks:

Those that did not make this regatta should be kicking themselves. I can't remember having so much fun dealing with such "off the wall" wind.

Sorta like our last sail at Coulon Park only with very little weed, no chop and four times the wind from four times the directions.

I do believe having this much fun must be illegal in at least seven states.

The steam over the refineries at March's Point showed dead out of the North. What we were presented with at Bowman Bay was wind toggling from NW to N to NE. Vic put together a course with lots of options and we dealt with it.

After a while it settled to NW and W. Wind strength was up and down with no lulls and a couple of gusts that layed our A rigs flat but nothing was broken and no one ended up under the pier.

It was a blast and some first class racing was had by all.

Enjoy.
