Yesterday's IOM racing was interesting, challenging, difficult, and above all fun. The day started with a very low -2 tide and falling. Launching the inflatable required traversing about 50 ft. of bay bottom to get to the water. That done we could only set a course with 2 windward marks and a start finish line. It was an interesting course, if not optimum. Then there was the mostly southerly wind, with its direction continually changing. Then we topped it all off with weeds, lots of weeds. I think we spent as much time clearing weeds from our keels and rudders as we did racing. Having said all that, we managed to complete 10 races. After racing we all gathered at Vic's house for a barbecue and socializing. Oh yeah, there was also the thunderstorm at the barbecue. But we were all under cover and stayed dry. Overall, it was a challenging day, that we made the best of. And, most important, HAD FUN. Racing results above, courtesy of JWB. Thanks Jerry
